Country Centre

Country Centre

We are a social enterprise, which means our activities bring in income to support the aims of the Aldingbourne Trust. Here at the Country Centre, people with learning disabilities receive hands on experience in a range of vocations so they can reach their potential.

What we have to offer

Eating & drinking

We cook, bake and create in our own cafe using fresh local produce. Tables can be reserved for Sunday roasts or you can just drop in and enjoy a coffee.

Conferences & meetings

Our fully equipped conference room and cabin are available for hire.

Shopping

Enjoy some retail therapy and feel good that your money is staying local. Not only do we make our own gifts and treats, but we also work with craftspeople to provide something for everyone – from handmade greetings cards, ceramics, jewellery, willow structures and carvings to toys.

Exploring

Visit our Woodland Walk – a peaceful area for picnics, pond dipping and children's activities.

Growing plants fruit and veg

We grow bedding and perennial plants, shrubs, climbers, roses and trees on site. Our 'Growing Organically' team produces excellent quality fruit and vegetables, in a way that is sympathetic with nature and therapeutic for our clients. We sell to the public and trade.

Recycling and restoring

As a Country Centre we care about the environment: The award winning wood@aldingbourne project is innovative because it tackles the huge problem of wood waste in landfill. We collect commercial wood waste, sort it and sell it on to the public.

Our wood products workshop is a celebration of inspiration, creating gifts and bespoke items from recycled and donated wood.

Our furniture restoration workshop expertly restores or repairs precious pieces from Chippendale period chairs, dressers or desks to church pews. French polishing is one of our specialities, as our customers will testify.

Gardening team

Our community gardening team enhance both private and communal gardens, taking pride in providing a professional and eco-friendly service to a high standard. The team are led by an instructor qualified in the management and design of gardens.
